The South East's biggest ever Work market is taking place in Eastbourne this November

Eastbourne's Big Week of Work takes place at Eastbourne Town Hall in Grove Road from Monday 7th November to Friday 11th November.

The event will bring together more than 700 potential recruits who can seek work through 150 employers. Today there are around 2,700 people living in Eastbourne actively looking for work, 40% of them have not been able to get work for six months or more. This event has been organised to help boost the Eastbourne community and the area of East Sussex.

The high profile event will include a programme of workshops to support people through the recruitment processes, including free CV and application form writing, and interview performance.

The Big Week of Work will be launched on the Monday with a series of keynote presentations set to inspire those attending, including Hayley Taylor Channel 4's Fairy Jobmother, Leon Doyle Apprentice contestant and successful entrepreneur, David Kelso Regional Personnel and Training Manager at Morrisons plc and Melanie Hunt Principal of Sussex Downs College.

From Tuesday through to Friday sector specific workshops will be held in retail, hospitality, customer service, administration and business and manual work.

Eastbourne's Big Week of Work is being organised by Eastbourne Works.

Eastbourne Works is a service provided by Sussex Downs College in association with Eastbourne Borough Council, Eastbourne and District Enterprise Agency Ltd, Jobcentre Plus, 3VA and Eastbourne Citizens Advice Bureau.

Arndale Centre Extension - Alternative routes for buses

Legal & General's intention to invest £65 million in the town centre is an ideal opportunity to look at Terminus Road and the way the buses move through the area.

Eastbourne Borough Council, East Sussex County Council, Stagecoach and Brighton & Hove Buses have been working in partnership to find alternative

However there is no one solution that resolves all the issues so the partnership has concentrated on looking at ways of improving the pedestrian environment in Terminus Road.
